

We
+♥ Frankston too

South East Water's new head office in Frankston is well and truly taking shape!

Concrete works for the highest office level of the building are complete, with only one final floor and the roof remaining. Internal works are well underway on site. Installation of windows commenced in November and the main feature stair case on the west side of the building is progressing well. This stair case is a prominent feature of the new building and runs continuously, spanning the five levels of office space.

As development of the building continues, the number of construction workers on the site is expected to increase from a current average of 150 to over 200 by the start of 2015 – resulting in increased business for local cafes and service providers.

South East Water employees are also set to visit Frankston over the coming months, touring the new head office site and experiencing the array of local cafes and retailers.

The New Year is set to be a very exciting time. South East Water is looking forward to the move to Frankston mid-2015 and joining the local community.
